PHILLIPS ACADEMY.

THE principal object of this Institution is to give instruction in the Latin and Greek Classics, and in such other studies as may be requisite for admission to college.

The instruction is designed to be such as to give the student a thorough knowledge of the grammar and idioms of the languages which he studies, and to accustom him to habits of close analysis.

Original composition in Latin or Greek is required each week.

TERMS.

There are three Academic terms during the year, viz. The first commencing four weeks after the second Wednesday of August. The second two weeks after the Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts. The third two weeks after the first Wednesday of April.

New classes are admitted twice a year, at the commencement of the Spring and Fall terms. Students however may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join any existing class.

Beside the regular classes preparing for college, there will be a class pursuing advanced studies.

TEXT BOOKS.

Goodrich's Latin Lessons; Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar; Andrews' Latin Reader; Cornelius Nepos; Cicero's Orations; Cicero De Senectute et Amicitia; Virgil; Sallust; Leverett's Latin Lexicon; Goodrich's Greek Lessons; Fisk's Greek Grammar; Xenophon's Anabasis; Greek Testament; Homer's Iliad; Donnegan or Grove's Greek Lexicon; Adams's Arithmetic; Day's Algebra; Euclid.

EXPENSES.

A fee of $5,00 is required of each student upon his entrance into the Academy.

Tuition for each term is $6,00, which is remitted to indigent students.

The Expense for board in private families varies from $2,00 to $3,00.

The board in Commons is charged at its net expense, from $1,00 to $1,50 per week, varying with the price of provisions.

There are connected with the Commons seven buildings, with commodious rooms, which will accommodate upwards of eighty students, without expense.

These rooms are furnished by the students. Beds, etc. are usually brought from home.
